We have previously shown you the high-tech luxury beds that ask for some huge bucks in exchange for a blissful sleep. Now, Italian mattress maker, Magniflex, is taking the concept of "luxury sleeping" to a whole new level with a bedding line made out of the precious metals, gold and platinum. The Gold Mattress from the house is made with a 22-carat gold yarn cover and features the company's patented Memoform Core, which adapts to the shape of the body with up to 85 percent accuracy. Magniflex says the physical properties of gold makes the mattress anti-bacteria, anti-inflammatory, anti-stress and anti-dust mite and odor-free. It sells for $24,000 and comes with matching gold pillows, priced at $1,000 each. The Magniflex Gold Mattress, fit for the royals, is sure to enrich the sleeper with unsurpassed comfort and luxury.

On the other hand, the Platinum Mattress shares the same features as of the gold mattress, except for the platinum fiber cover. It costs a whopping $75,000, three times more than the price of the gold version.
